

I would like introducing my self and my company Epcor Industrial Inc. run business that began in 2006, and since 1991 may self experience as Tool and Die -old school machinist.

I worked at many machine shop on Chicago's northwest side, doing manual machining many years, 1997 start using CNC machines and 2006 open my own company with many CNC milling and turning centers and many experienced great skills machinists; Epcor Industries Inc.- located in Elk Grove Village, Illinois

Like many other shops, we specialized in high precision CNC turning and milling. Responsiveness and perhaps most importantly our willingness to take on difficult and challenging jobs separates us from our competitors on our service.

We have a wide range of industries,make many of parts for: a automation equipment, packaging machines, food processing equipment, refuse equipment, automotive, medical, aerospace.

We can save your time and cost on your spare parts for your machines, make your prototype and full production with assembly per your request. Another aspect of our company is our ability to quickly turn around your hot jobs, even offering next day delivery. We also can take care of finishing services- make us your one stop shop.

We have wide range of CNC equipment that allows us to take on all kinds of jobs be it small or big.

If you will be interesting to work with us please contact me with more questions or send your blue print, also your sample for spare parts, we will send you quote within 24 hrs.
